

Our education system and society are failing to instill and impart correct and proper knowledge of religion and moral values in the new generation.

If our students and youth focus only on career building and not on their character they will end up as good earning machines. Self-centeredness and indifference to others will develop. Our society should focus on building character of youths along with their career, so that they become capable of fulfilling their responsibilities towards the society. Science teaches us that man is a highly specialized animal, but it is religion which teaches us to be a good human being.

In response to this prevailing situation, Girls Islamic Organization, Karnataka has decided to observe a state-wide campaign to convey this message to the student community and the society as well under the theme "Career, Character and Charisma" from 19th to 28th August 2017. God willing during the course of this 10 days campaign we will conduct competitions and lectures in high schools, colleges and tutorials. Individual and group meets, distribution of folders, short clips making, students conference, Special programs for teachers and lecturers, meeting student union leaders, educational model show will be held at various levels.

Girls Islamic Organization, Karnataka appeals to you to join us in this endeavor.

In the name of Allah, the most Beneficent

Education is as old as first man on earth. To learn, to experience and to transform oneself thereby, are all human characteristics. Education helps humans to nurture the elements that distinguish them from other species. Biological existence of humans is related by food and reproduction. But their social existence is determined only by education. Education makes man more enterprising and more cultured and ensures progress for the whole mankind.

Great thinkers define education as:

“True knowledge is not measured in relationship to how much you memorize and then narrate, but rather, true knowledge is an expression of piety”

– Prophet Muhammad

“By education I mean an all-round drawing out of the best in child and man-body, mind and spirit”

- Mahatma Gandhi

“Education is the process through which the members of a society are shown the way of life and are made capable of fulfilling their responsibilities in the society” – Oxford

“Education is the complete development of individuality so that one makes an original contribution to human life according to the best of his capacity”

– TP Nunn

“Education is that which makes a man of good character and useful for the world”

– Yajnavalka

If we analyze today's scenario, we can see students and youngsters competing with each other, breaking barriers, working and studying hard, day and night to get seat in the college of their dreams which is well known and has good educational standards, so that they can build up a good career and have a great, bright and secured future. In this whole process of building up good career students forget to work on their character building.

Our Global literacy rate as well as our National literacy rate is gradually increasing with the time. We have best Doctors, Engineers, Journalists, Scientists and great experts in every possible field today. According to the true objective of education the rate with which our literacy is increasing there should not have been evils in the society. But, alas evils do exist. It is because people are well literate in their chosen fields but they are illiterate when it comes to religion and moral values. Consequently students disrespecting their teachers and elders have become a trend and fashion. Doctors are involved in organ trafficking, engineers put low quality material in construction projects and risk the lives of many. Journalists under the influence of political parties work hard to cast communal polarization in the society, Police personnel are involved in communal riots, fake encounters, rape cases and kidnappings. Politicians are involved in anti-social and anti-national activities, lynching, murder and other anti-human activities have become common.
